

Ward 7 Parent Empowerment Summit Series

Hosted by Office of the Student Advocate

in partnership with Ward 7 Education Council and SBOE President & Ward 7 Member Karen Williams

This session we will focus on Gaining Advocacy Strength: Building Coalitions!

Parents and communities are the very foundation on which quality public education is built. A student and family focused public education system can only be achieved through empowered parents and communities.

Date:

Saturday, May 6, 2017

Time:

9:30am – 2pm

Location:

Caesar Chavez PCS
(Parkside Campus)
3701 Hayes Street NE
Washington, DC
A light breakfast and lunch will be provided.

This session will be divided into two parts – a panel discussion and workshop session.

1. A panel conversation on how parents can be involved in the civic processes that influence public education and other public spaces in their communities.
2. A workshop session with facilitators who will share with parents how to effectively engage in advocacy and decision-making processes.

(Session guest include representatives from: the Office of the State Superintendent of Education (OSSE), DC Public School Community Action Team, Mayor's Office of Talent & Appointments, Advisory Neighborhood Commissioners, and former DC Public Charter School Board Alumni/Parent Council representatives, the Deputy Mayor Office for Education, the Deputy Mayor for Health & Human Services, the Office of the City Administrator, DC Council staff, and the DC Department of Housing & Community Development)
